

Desking with distinction for those who demand adaptable and cleverly integrated features into their demanding and dynamic work environment.

The Watts Scala is a leading example of executive and managerial desking optimally suited to the educational industry. Known to the NSW Department of Education and Training as the UWS, the Scala workstation features an array of innovations designed specifically for educational use. As a NSW Government 1006 contracted supplier to DET, Watts are able to supply this product directly to Public Schools.

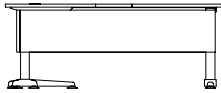

The desk features a technician height-adjustable frame, available in a range of powdercoat finishes or with the executive look of polished aluminium feet.

The Scala workstation is available in both corner and straight desking options, complete with privacy panels, with a wide range of finishes available to choose from.

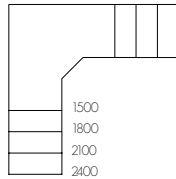

Various cable management, storage and monitor arm accessories are available to compliment the Scala.
